Solutions for Complex Environmental, Health, & Safety Challenges

We know how competitive the wood-treating market is and why you need a technical partner to develop real-world, cost-effective solutions, rather than research projects or hypothetical answers. We leverage our experience to provide you with clear technical solutions and regulatory and industry expertise.

EHS Support understands the unique EH&S challenges that the treated wood industry faces, including:

- Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA) Subpart W and Drip-Pad Management
- Managing Remedial Liabilities from Historical Site Operations (e.g., wastewater impoundments, sludge disposal, etc.)
- Industrial Stormwater Permitting and Monitoring — meeting “benchmark” values
- RCRA Hazardous Waste Management Programs
- Clean Air Act Permitting and Compliance for Site Operations — storage of treatment chemicals, wood-fired boilers, etc.
- Health and Safety (H&S) Programs for High-risk Site Operations — sawmills, peeling operations, cylinder operations, etc.
- Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA) Re-Registration Eligibility Determination

THE EHS SUPPORT DIFFERENCE

EHS Support works closely with you to develop clear, long-term plans that help you identify, quantify, and manage your environmental liabilities. Our scientists, engineers, and geologists translate the complex regulatory and technical issues into easy-to-understand business terms that you can then leverage to quickly make well-informed business decisions.

EHS Support has the expertise and experience to help you address environmental health and safety risks. As a result, you can focus on your core business and manage these issues at the lowest possible cost.

Bottom line: EHS Support understands your industry and the operational risks you face every single day.

- Knowledge: We maintain a deep understanding of industry-specific occupational and ecological risk management, in addition to current regulation compliance and historical liability management.
- Focus: Since inception, we have invested resources devoted to developing strong strategic industry partnerships and to learning and understanding the sector.
- Advocacy: We assist our clients in understanding and quantifying liabilities before they buy, and we remain by their side in the long-term to manage compliance and remediation risk after the deal closes.
- Efficiency: Our industry experience and relationships with many key treated-wood producers has repeatedly enabled us to accelerate EH&S due-diligence processes, reducing deal costs and ensured positive outcomes.
- Experience: Over the last six years alone, we have provided environmental due diligence services on over $2.5 billion in mergers and acquisitions (M&A) transactions in the sector.
- Breadth: From helping clients solve business risks related to timber supply through product storage and delivery in the railroad tie, utility pole, residential lumber, and pulp industries, our depth of experience is unparalleled.
